DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Crane, Jr. et al. (U.S.

Patent No. 6,307,258). With regard to Claim 1, Crane discloses:

a base plate (200) on which IC chips (100) are connected;

a case (400) mounted to the base plate and at least one window (410) defined through the case so that at least one of the IC chips is accommodated in the at least one window (column 4, lines 27-30), a space enclosed by the at least one window being larger than the at least one of the IC chips (column 4, lines 28-32) and a top surface of the at least one of the IC chips accommodated in the at least one window being in flush with a top surface of the case (column 4, lines 34-40), and a seal plate (600) attached on the case and sealing the at least one window (column 9, lines 6-10). See figures 1, 12 and 16.

With regard to Claim 2, Crane discloses IC chips having a connection legs electrically connected to the base plate (200), (column 4, lines 11-15).

Art Unit: 2815

With regard to Claim 3, Crane discloses a top surface of the at least one of the IC chips accommodated in the at least one window (410) in flush with a top surface of the case (400), (column 4, lines 34-38).

With regard to Claim 4, Crane discloses:

a base plate (200) on which IC chips (100) are connected;

a case (400) mounted to the base plate and at least one window (410) defined through the case so that at least one of the IC chips is accommodated in the at least one window (column 4, lines 27-30), a space enclosed by the at least one window being slightly larger than the at least one of the IC chips (column 4, lines 28-32) and a top surface of the at least one of the IC chips accommodated in the at least one window being in flush with a top surface of the case (column 4, lines 34-40), a periphery of at least one of the IC chips being fitted and in contact with an inner periphery of the at least one window (column 4, lines 34-39), and

a seal plate (600) attached on the case and sealing the at least one window (column 9, lines 6-10). See figures 1, 12 and 16.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments, filed November 5, 2004, have been fully considered however they are not deemed persuasive for the reasons stated in the body of the office action. Applicant first argues that "a limitation is added in the amended claim 1 and defined that the space that is enclosed by the at least one window is larger than the at least one chips so that the whole at least one chip can be accommodated in the space enclosed by the at least one window". The examiner first notes that Applicant does not claim a “whole at least one chip” accommodated in the space enclosed by the at least one window. The claim merely discloses “at least one of the IC chips is accommodated in the at least one window”, and as such, Crane clearly discloses the claimed case (400) mounted to a base plate and at least one window (410) defined through the case so that at least one of the IC chips is accommodated in the at least one window (column 4, lines 27-30).

Applicant also argues that new claim 4 “further includes that a periphery of the at least one of the IC chips is fitted and in contact with an inner periphery of the at least one window. This is totally different from the disclosure of Crane Jr. et al.” The examiner also disagrees with Applicant’s assertion of the Crane reference and notes that the reference clearly discloses the claimed periphery of at least one of the IC chips being fitted and in contact with an inner periphery of the at least one window (column 4, lines 34-39).

Therefore, the claimed invention does not patentably or structurally distinguish from that disclosed by the prior art, as shown by Crane et al., and the rejection should be maintained.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
